Cincinnati Enquirer (Internet) – October 13, 2001

TAYLOR James E. (Jim), a lifelong resident of Colerain Township, died Friday, October 12, 2001, at Wellspring at Evergreen. He was the beloved husband of Loraine (nee Brungs) for more than 61 years; the devoted Dad to Cheryl (Hank) Berlon, and Marlene (Joe) Nasello, both of Wyoming; loving grandfather and Papaw to Tami (Gary) Starner-Baker of Latonia, KY and Lori (Nick) Paranjape of Knoxville, TN; and great grandfather of Morgan, Devon, Darian and Austin. He is also survived by his brother Gene (Marian) of Colerain Township and several nieces and nephews. Mr. Taylor died following a short illness resulting from a stroke. Prior to his illness, he enjoyed 26 years of retirement and 86 years of perfect health. He retired in Procter & Gamble's Ivorydale plant after 39 years of service. He began his permanent employment in the cutting and stamping department and moved up to management status in 1941. After serving as an Infantryman in WWII for nearly four years including the Campaigns in North Africa and Italy, he returned to Procter & Gamble in a variety of assignments in granules, industrial engineering and liquid detergents. At retirement, he was the night plant supervisor at Ivorydale. Jim Taylor carried his strong work ethic into his retirement years and, for over quarter century, vigorously operated and maintained a 27-acre horse-boarding farm in addition to his own personal residence. If Jim couldn't fix it, it didn't need fixing. He enjoyed gathering once a month with other P & G retirees in the "80's Club" which consisted of former members of management whose age and years of service totaled 80 years or more. He never met a stranger, had a great sense of humor and was liked by all who ever had the pleasure of his company. Visitation will be from 1-2 P.M. on Tuesday, October 16, 2001 at Paul Young Funeral Home, 7345 Hamilton Avenue, Mt. Healthy. In lieu of flowers, the family request memorials in Jim's memory are made to the charity of one's choice
