Mary Bornhorn

Mrs. Mary Bornhorn, 66, was pronounced dead on arrival at 10:30 p. m. Thursday at Booth Hospital, Covington, where she was taken by the Newport life squad.

Mrs. Bornhorn apparently became ill as she entered a taxicab in front of Glenn Schmidt's, Newport, after playing bingo.

The taxi driver rushed her to the Newport life-squad quarters. The squad took her to the hospital. She is believed to have suffered a heart attack.

She lived at 1331 Wheeler street, Covington, and was a retired assembly line employe at the Heekin Can Co., Cincinnati.

Survivors include a son, Frederick Roller, Covington.

The Allison and Rose Funeral Home, Covington, is in charge.
