

Lexington Herald Leader – June 1, 1990

FULLER

Maudie Mae Fuller, 82, 2773 Georgetown Rd., Bourbon Co., wife of Albert G. Fuller, died at 3:35 p.m. Wed. at Bourbon General Hospital. She was a native of Bourbon Co., born Aug. 6, 1907 to the late Claude and Charity Florence Ransdell. She was a graduate of Center Hill High School, class of 1927, member of the Old Union Christian Church, member of Christian Women's Fellowship, was a retired member of the Church Choir, and was a member of the Old Union Homemaker's Club for 51 years. Other survivors are a son and daughter-in-law, Jeff C. and Mary Evelyn Fuller, Fayette Co.; a sister, Mrs. Edna Lee Ransdell Hipshire Burns, and brother-in-law, Marshall Burns, Fayette Co.; two grandsons, Jeffrey Fuller and wife Cathy, and Steven Fuller and wife Annette, both of Fayette Co.; a great-granddaughter, Jennifer Fuller; three great-grandsons, Brian Fuller, Justin Fuller, and Kevin Fuller, all of Lexington; three half-sisters, Agnes Rogers, Cynthiana, Elsie Hedges, Paris, and Frances Terry, Bourbon Co.; and a step-sister, Mary Fuller, Bourbon Co. She was preceded in death by a brother, Chester Ransdell. Funeral services will be 2 p.m. Sat. at the Hinton-Turner Funeral Home, Paris, by Rev. Gary Edge and Rev. Marshall Fraley. Burial is in the Jacksonville Cemetery. Casketbearers will be Everett Calvert, Bobby Scott, Eugene Campbell, John Ginn, George Crowe, Bob Nightingale, Allen Carr, and David Biddle. Honorary bearers will be John Carr, and the elders and deacons of the Old Union Christian Church. Visitation is 3-9 p.m. today at the funeral home. Memorials are suggested to the Old Union Christian Church Choir, in care of Betty Rose, 2802 Hume-Bedford Rd., Lexington, 40511.