Our loving mother and friend Barbara A. Dresson, "Mamaw", 77, of North Lauderdale while surrounded by her family she lost her brave battle with cancer Sunday, October 7, 2012. She was born in Nashville, Tennessee, but lived in South Florida since 1953, where she met and married the love of her life, Henry Dresson. She was blessed with 3 children. Debbie Mitchell of Miami Shores, Cindy Holland of Margate, and Donald Dresson Sr. of North Lauderdale. Our mother was a strong woman with many passions-her work at K-Mart from where she retired after 20 years, and her four grandchildren, Kimberly Spearing, Robert Mitchell, Ryan Mitchell, and Donald Dresson, Jr. She loved each one of them dearly and spent her life staying involved with each aspect of their lives. She loved spending time and making wonderful memories with friends and family. One of the last of many blessings were her seven great-grandchildren for whom she loved dearly, and they were as she called them, "the light of her life". Our mother will always be remembered for her sweet dimpled smile and her loving compassion for anyone in need. Her love and strength will live within us always and forever.
